Edinburgh Paediatric PSG Course
19th – 20th January 2018

This unique course offers a hands-on approach to understanding paediatric sleep medicine as well as adolescent sleep issues. The course provides practical demonstrations and individualised practice in setting up and scoring polysomnography and polygraphy in children.

This course is geared particularly towards all health professionals working in the area of paediatric sleep medicine and general paediatric medicine but is also suitable for those working in adult sleep medicine or in the general area of sleep.

This course will cover:
The basics of paediatric sleep from newborn to adolescent
Setting up polysomnography and polygraphy in children
Understanding sleep staging from the newborn to the adolescent
Differences between paediatric and adult sleep
Adolescent sleep issues and the role of actigraphy
Assessing sleepiness
